

May 2018

Indie Spot of the month!

Happy 4th Birthday to Burrito Loco!

Miguel was born and raised on the Spanish island of Menorca where his Grandad, a famous food critic, introduced him to a wide range of food flavours and combinations – one of these being Mexican cuisine, which he brought with him when he moved to England in his early teens.

His passion for Mexican food grew, and in 2003 he set off in search of culinary inspiration, and what better place to go than the homeland of this unique style of food combination – sunny Mexico!

Mexico did not disappoint, and on his return to England, Miguel had only one mission; to bring his adopted hometown the delight he had discovered abroad. So Burrito Loco was born.

Using only locally sourced produce making perfect guacamole every time and open until 10pm (not Sundays) for tasty cocktails from 7pm what more could you ask for!
